Membership Opportunities

- The national member database is available to Associate Members for a nominal fee. Call (817) 514-2900, for current pricing and security guidelines.
- Your company name and contact information is published on the ASA website.
- Your company employees may participate in all applicable ASA national benefit programs, such as the ASA Federal Credit Union, uniform purchases and more. For information on these programs and other benefits, call (817) 514-2900.
- You receive a subscription to AutoInc. magazine, the official publication of the Automotive Service Association.
- ASA sponsors two national trade shows a year: CARS and NACE. You will receive notice of event dates and space availability.
- Training is one of the industry's biggest challenges. As an Associate Member, you can help by contributing training information as well as receiving it. As a member you are always considered for participation in association-sponsored seminars and training programs.

We certify that we are a supplier of goods and/or services to the automotive industry. As a member of the Automotive Service Association, we agree to abide by the association's bylaws. It is understood that membership in ASA is subject to acceptance by ASA and is non-refundable.
